DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: Actives of formula b. The species are independent or distinct because compound of formula b are structurally different and therefore have different classifications.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, invention comprising a compound of formula b is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

During a telephone conversation with Attorney Henderson on 09/2006 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention comprising the b compound of formula II-a, claims 6-9. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 6-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Assmann et al (USPN 6277791; 08/21/01). Assmann teaches the instant compound of formula I. Assmann teaches a compound of formula I where R = 2-cyano phenyl. See abstract, column 1 lines 19-59. This compound taught by Assmann is the compound of formula I in instant claims. Assmann teaches that the compound has fungicidal activity and that the compounds are applied to plants to protect plants from fungi. See column 9 lines 21-50. Assmann teaches that formulations of the compound of formula I can be made by mixing the formula I compound with extenders, solvents and / or surfactants. See column 12 lines 40-46. Assmann encourages the mixing of other actives (fungicides, insecticides) with the compound of formula I. See column 13 lines 25-31.

Art Unit: 1616

Included in the list of other actives, which can be mixed with the compound of formula I are imidacloprid and / or nitenpyram. See column 16 lines 37,44. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to combine the compound of formula I with imidacloprid or nitenpyram and apply the combination to plants to control fungi growth. One would have been motivated to do this in order to widen the spectrum of action of the composition or to prevent development of resistance to the compound of formula I. On page 15 of the application, Applicant provides data for a composition comprising a compound of formula I and imidacloprid. Examiner does not find results convincing since the combination of the two actives only yield an efficacy of 26%.
